ON NEEDING FRIENDS

At the annual meeting of the Friends of the University, on Monday, March 8, 1971, LOUIS DESROCHERS, Chancellor of The University of Alberta, delivered a speech entitled "A Friend in Need." Excerpts from his speech follow.

"... The University is a human, fallible, complex, and changing society of people working at expanding and sharing knowledge—no more and no less. It is not a wonder drug for what ails society or the family. It is not a substitute for the home or the church. It should discover facts which may help society with some of its problems. Some of the findings of its researchers may be challenged, some may be resented, some may be upset. The University is not engaged in a popularity contest or image creation adventure of the "P-R type." Quite the contrary. If the members of the university community are doing their job well, there should be a disturbing effect on society at large. . . .

"... The University is not monolithic. It is made up of many constituents: students (undergraduate and graduate), professors, non-academic staff, and administrative staff; and, within each of these constituent groups, there are countless sub-groups which often change in number and personnel depending on the issue involved. It is sometimes alleged "over town" that "the University did this" or "the University maintains that." When we reach facts, we find that one professor made a statement, or that the Gateway published a certain article, or yet again that a particular group invited a controversial speaker, all of these activities being lawful exercises of the autonomy enjoyed by the individual or the legally constituted group and all of them having no official sanction from the University itself.

Sod-turning, new style. At the official "sod-turning" for the new Arts 11 building, held Friday, March 11, concrete was poured for the building's first pillar. Shaking hands are FRANK BROWN, Building Manager for Alta-West Construction, facing, and ROBERT CLARK, Minister of Education, while J. F. FORREST, Professor of English, and W. JOHNS, Professor of Classics, look on. In 1909, when the sod was turned for the first Arts Building, such ceremonies were taken literally. The Honourable A. C. Rutherford, Premier of Alberta, was seen rounding the field at the handle of a plough.

"... the University is not dealing with 'kids.' Society will be confirming this assumption soon in the legislature of this province when the age of majority will be appreciably reduced. The law will then recognize what has actually been a fact of life for a number of years. Students will now virtually all be sui juris and there will no longer be any foundation for the enforcement of the very complex concept of the University being in loco parentis. . . .

"... our University will continue to be an expensive business. The federal government, the provincial government, business, industry, professional groups and you and I—directly or indirectly—compel the University to assume new and exacting duties in research and teaching all the time. In some very few cases, seed money will be provided in the expectation that the University will complete the project, equip it and staff it. In most cases, however, the University is left to develop and finance any task it is asked to take on or does take on itself. At the same time, as a society, we wish to emulate our neighbors to the south and appreciably increase the number of 18- to 24-year-olds who attend post-secondary institutions, including Universities. To answer these needs the University must expand its facilities, increase and upgrade its staff in a competitive market. While I am proud to report that this University pays much better than average salaries, it does not pay top salaries in all categories and sometimes loses some of its staff to other universities in the so-called "have-not" provinces.

"... University students will continue in the tradition of confronting, challenging, shocking and sometimes hurting their elders and the society in which they live. This is the idealism of young adulthood and we would not have it otherwise. All of us have been radicals at one time or another. Fear, wisdom, experience, and good luck have given most of us acceptable channels for our radicalism. I am confident that the students of today and of tomorrow are no different in essence from their predecessors and that they will eventually convert their present form of radicalism into a form of political and professional action which should benefit our society at large. . . .

"... this group (the Friends), composed as it is of very influential citizens of our community, can make a very significant contribution to the creation of a better image of the University. The Friends can do this by direct advice to the University in those areas of demonstrated deficiency. They can challenge irresponsible criticism whether it be verbal or written. They can refute gratuitous and destructive statements which they sometimes hear. They can offer to act as intermediary between a serious critic and the University. They can remind our legislators that the University is essential and that it must be constantly improved. They can familiarize themselves with certain aspects of University life or government and become voluntary public relations officers for the University. Most importantly, they can, by the wisdom of their approach to any discussion relating to the University, neutralize the hypersensitivities of some critics.

"In this way, Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, the Friends of the University will display true friendship and loyalty. They will not seek to remake their friend to their own image. They will accept its shortcomings, assist it, defend it, and seek its greater good. It is essential that this be done because The University of Alberta is indeed a friend in need."

TENDERS AWARDED

The Board of Governors' Building Committee awarded contracts for the construction of two new buildings at The University of Alberta.

Alta-West Construction Ltd. of Edmonton has been awarded the construction management contract for the new Arts II building, the first phase of the Humanities Centre. Under this contract the company will be responsible for the awarding and supervision of sub-contracts as well as for construction. Alta-West's bid of $1,149,520 will cover ground work and construction of the frame of the six-storey building. Arts II will be located at 112 Street and 91 Avenue, and will provide 78,000 square feet of space to house the departments of English and Classics, the office of the Dean of Arts as well as classroom facilities. Construction is expected to begin immediately for a completion date in the spring of 1972.

The contract for the second building of the Engineering Centre has been awarded to Cana Construction of Edmonton. The firm tendered the low bid of $3,336,100 for the six-storey building. Construction on the site east of Engineering I will begin immediately and is expected to be completed in 19 months. The building will feature mechanical equipment exposed in the passageways as a teaching vehicle.

NEGOTIATED DEVELOPMENT GRANTS

The following statement has been received from JOHN NICOL, Secretary to the Board of Governors.

At its meeting on February 12, 1971, the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors agreed to adopt the following policy concerning new Negotiated Development Grant applications to granting agencies, such as the Medical and National Research Councils.

In view of the present financial situation, the University is not prepared to make any absolute commitment to provide continuing financial support to any application for a Negotiated Development Grant, and this policy must be clearly stated in all submissions to granting agencies.

Under the above policy, the University is prepared, however, to examine the merits of each application for a Negotiated Development Grant received from members of staff. If the ad hoc Committee on Research decides that the purpose of the application warrants further study, it will refer the matter to the Academic Development Committee and the University Planning Committee. These two committees in turn will discuss the academic aspects and the University's commitment to the space requirements of the proposal. If approved, the application will then be forwarded to the granting agency.

CONSTRUCTION SCHEDULE

The Campus Development Office has issued the following schedule of dates which indicate start and completion of new work and, in the case of work underway, the completion date only.

The most popular and un-cool event of the year, Bar None, a western dance sponsored by the "Aggies," came and went in a swirl of checkered skirts. Hard-working dancers promoted the event by romping through campus cafeterias, like the Central Academic Building, below, and are probably responsible for the crowd of close to 7,000 attending the dance.

Utilities tunnel 3 a/b on the west side of 112 Street from 88 Avenue to Saskatchewan Drive to be completed by August 14. An effort is being made to open Saskatchewan Drive for traffic by May 21.

Branch tunnel to Arts 2 will close off 112 Street north of 88 Avenue between March 21 and April 15.

Deep sewer V (d) north of the Arts Building from the Arts Court to the Chemistry Building to be completed by March 31.

Utilities tunnel II (b) north of 89 Avenue and west of Engineering I and east to the area between Cameron Library and the Central Academic Building to be completed by April 30.

Deep sewer V (c) north of the Education Building on 89 Avenue to be completed in the 89 Avenue area by March 26.

Sanitary sewer diversion on the intersection of 112 Street and 89 Avenue will cause traffic to be detoured around the obstruction for an indefinite period.

Utilities tunnel II (c) on 114 Street north of 87 Avenue to 89 Avenue to be completed by May 30.

Deep sewer phase IV on 116 Street north of 87 Avenue to be completed by March 22.

The hoardings for Arts 2 and Engineering 2 are in place, and it is anticipated that Chemistry 2 and Fine Arts may be under construction in late March or April. An up-dated map will be published in the next issue of FOLIO.

PEOPLE

■ JOHN KING-FARLOW, Associate Professor of Philosophy, addressed the philosophy departments of Guelph University and the University of Western Ontario on Logic and Metaphysics. (From page three) Conference at the University of Oregon and will afterwards address the first session of the Annual Conference of the American Society of International Law.

■ JACQUELINE OGG, Associate Professor of Drama, will visit Paris this summer to teach modern dance at the Paris American Academy. Before coming to the University, Miss Ogg taught at the Centre de Danse Classique of Roselle Hightower, Cannes.

■ R. T. CUTTS, Professor, Faculty of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, was selected as the 1971 Medical Research Council Visiting Professor to the Faculty of Pharmacy at the University of Toronto. En route to Toronto, the Air Canada DC-8 jet in which Dr. Cutts was travelling was hit by severe air turbulence, but the injuries he sustained were fortunately only minor ones.

■ KAROL KROTKI, Professor of Sociology, went for a week to Addis Ababa as Canadian representative to a meeting of the Economic Commission for Africa. Its purpose was to consider the evolution of contributions from donor countries to the development of population programs and policies in the various countries of Africa.

■ MILAN V. DIMIC, Chairman of the Department of Comparative Literature, was re-elected for a six-month period to the co-ordinating committee of the International Comparative Literature Association at its meeting in Paris. This committee is responsible for the research and publishing activities of the Association. Professor Dimic has also received an invitation from the Institute of World Literature of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences in Budapest to deliver public lectures and conduct round-table discussions on romanticism and folklore, and on present trends in comparative literature methodology.

VISITORS

■ ROSE SHEININ of the Department of Medical Biophysics at the University of Toronto gave a seminar in the Department of Biochemistry.

■ SAMUEL MESSICK, Research Vice-President of the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, led a seminar at the Centre for Advanced Study in Theoretical Psychology.

BOOKS

Bad Land is the third volume of verse by R. E. BRAUN, Associate Professor of Classics. It has been published in a limited cloth edition, as well as in paperback, by Jonathan Williams, The Jargon Society, Penland, North Carolina.

NOTICES

GENERAL FACULTIES COUNCIL

At a special meeting on March 24, the Association of the Academic Staff will ask the Council to recommend mediation and binding arbitration as a means of resolving its salary dispute with the Board of Governors. The meeting will be held at 2 p.m. in the Council Chamber of University Hall.

ACADEMIC STAFF ASSOCIATION

There will be a special general meeting of the Association at 8 p.m. on Thursday, March 25 in Room 126, Physics Building.

BOOKSTORE INVENTORY

The bookstore in the Students' Union Building will be closed all day on Thursday, April 2 and Friday, April 3, while the inventory is being taken.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS

Since the announcement in FOLIO of March 4 that a group has been formed on campus, the day and time of the weekly meetings have been changed. The meetings will be held each Monday at 8:15 p.m., in Room 379 of the Central Academic Building.

ECOLOGY LECTURE

On Thursday, March 25, the Department of Chemical and Petroleum Engineering will be host to M. KING HUBBERT, research geophysicist with the US Geological Survey. Dr. Hubbert, whose bachelor's, master's, and PhD degrees in geology and physics were earned at the University of Chicago, has taught geology and geophysics at Columbia University, conducted government geological surveys, produced studies on mineral resources during the war, directed and participated in research at Shell Oil Co. in Texas and was, until 1968, Professor of Geophysics at Stanford University. At 8:15 p.m. on March 25, Dr. Hubbert will give a public lecture in the Students' Union Theatre on "Man's conquest of energy: its ecological and human consequences."

MUSICAL COMEDY TO BE STAGED

Studio Theatre's final production of the 1970-71 season will be the Broadway musical A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, by LARRY GELBART and BURT SHEVLOVE, with music and lyrics by STEPHEN SONDHEIM. MARK SCHOENBERG, Associate Professor of Drama, will be the director. It will run for ten performances from March 25 to April 3, excluding Sunday, at 8:30 p.m. each evening, with a matinee at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 3. Tickets are available at the Corbett Hall box-office, 433-3265.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU

By Monday, March 8, the Department of Extension had received 145 replies to a questionnaire sent to all full-time academic staff asking whether they would be willing to speak to groups within the province on their subject areas. The replies are being classified according to topic, and as soon as this has been done, a listing will be printed and sent to all those requesting copies. Information about the replies or the listing is available from the Department at 439-2021, extension 66.

VOLUNTEER SERVICES WELCOMED

The Misericordia Hospital will welcome anyone with an hour or so a week to spare who would like to share their time with those members of the community unfortunate enough to be hospital patients. Volunteer helpers can be valuable in many ways: serving in the coffee shop or gift shop; assisting with the mobile library; typing and filing, or, of course, visiting and talking with patients. Drivers can help the psychiatric department with shopping trips, and almost any skill or talent can be used as a contribution to the wellbeing of patients. Discarded toys, books, or games would be greatly appreciated by the children's department. Those interested in helping the hospital in any way are asked to call MRS. DOREEN ELLIOTT, Director of Voluntary Services, at 484-8811, extension 339.

REAL ESTATE AWARD

The Real Estate Institute of Canada is offering an award, the "Claude Leigh Real Estate Award," of $500 for the best article pertaining to any phase of Canadian real estate. The article should be 6,000 words in length and submitted by a student involved in a course of study related to the real estate field, i.e. architecture, law, business, sociology, town planning, environment etc., engineering, or urban studies. The final date for submission of entries is July 1, 1971. Entries must be typewritten, double spaced, on one side of the page. All papers submitted become the property of the Real Estate Institute of Canada, and the winning article will be featured in the REIC Journal and The Canadian Realtor. Manuscripts should be submitted to the Real Estate Institute of Canada, 99 Duncan Mill Road, Don Mills, Ontario, and must be marked "Claude Leigh Real Estate Award."

ADULT STUDENT CENTRE

The times at which the Centre in Corbett Hall is open are Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and in the evenings Monday to Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m. The Centre is closed on Friday evenings and on weekends.
